

Scotland Yard Unable To Figure U. S. Way Of Handling Dillinger

Famous Criminal Unit of British Empire Would Be of Little Help To American Officers, Because English Gunmen Are An Unknown Problem.

London, April 25 (AP)—Famed Scotland Yard probably would be of little help to the heavily-armed officers of the law hot on the trail of John Dillinger.

Odd as it may appear to Americans accustomed to thinking of Scotland Yard as a premier run-of-the-mill organization, the noted London police force is not so well equipped for the hunt for the noted American desperado.

The men of Scotland Yard could today only one English case of approaching that involved in the headlong hunt for the No. 1 public enemy of the United States.

Sidney Street Siege.
This famous incident, which began with the seizure of Sidney Street, occurred in 1911 in London's well-known east end.

Two desperate foreign criminals, "The Painters," took refuge in a house and met their would-be captors with a hail of bullets. The police withdrew to a safe distance until they were reinforced by soldiers ordered out by Winston Churchill, then home secretary, who himself rushed to the scene.

The desperadoes ultimately perished when the house was fired, but the incident remained in the mind of the British as a roundly criticized for calling out the troops.

No British Dillingers.
Except for that, there have not been any British Dillingers, and Scotland Yard finds it difficult to conceive of a situation involving gunmen lurking in England instead of the woods of Minnesota.

"What would Scotland Yard follow if Dillinger and his gang were running amok in the London area?" an Associated Press correspondent asked Scotland Yard.

No 80 Miles Per Hour.
"I cannot imagine a car speeding at 80 miles an hour through London's narrow winding streets; nor could I conceive of a situation in London in which criminals could be armed with machine guns," the spokesman said.

"There are three reasons," he explained. "Why gunmen are rare here. First is the difficulty of obtaining weapons. Secondly the heavy penalties imposed when a criminal is caught carrying arms let alone using them. And lastly, the island's size gives criminals little choice in regard to means of escape."

Firearms Law Tight.
The firearms law in England is tightened periodically—the house of commons only recently passing an amendment designed to restrict sales of so-called toy pistols—and the situation never is allowed to get out of control.

Because the penalties are so severe, criminals seldom take a chance on being caught armed and policemen normally go about their duties unarmed.

It would require a desperate situation, the Associated Press learned at Scotland Yard, before police would resort to the use of weapons—though all are trained through a certain amount of target practice.

British Police Unarmed

Even if police are dealing with a criminal, they are skeptical of his marksmanship over anything but the shortest ranges. Under some conditions, the police could envisage resorting to the use of weapons themselves, though in such a case they might use rifles which are more accurate and allow the forces of the law to remain at a discreet distance.

Not only London's Bobbies, but all British police, go around unarmed.

Trotzky, Missing, Said To Be Under Protection

Barbizon, France, April 25 (AP)—Leon Trotzky has been spirited away from his forest villa near here. He is hiding pending word from some foreign country willing to accept him. Trotzky's baggage and 15 cases of books were carried away for storage in Paris today.

President To Discuss Japanese Situation With Secretary Hull

Secretary Turns to White House After a Thorough Study of the Latest Announcement by the Far East Government—U. S. Ambassador Grew Confers With Foreign Minister Hirota in Tokyo.

Washington, April 25 (AP)—The Japanese situation was up for discussion today by President Roosevelt at a luncheon conference with Secretary Hull.

Mr. Roosevelt arranged to acquaint himself intimately with the new move by Japan toward China.

The secretary of state turned toward the White House after a thorough study of the latest announcement by the Far Eastern government.

Pending the White House parley there was no indication of the Presidential attitude.

Meanwhile, it was said authoritatively that the United States had sent no official communications to Japan or any of the nine-power treaty nations concerning Japan's "Statement of policy towards China."

Definite confirmation that the state department was still making a careful study of available "texts" of the Japanese declaration, the provisions of the nine-power treaty and other pertinent data, and that no immediate definite action was contemplated by this government, came from high official sources.

The state department, however, continued to maintain its policy of official comment on the day's developments.

Phillips said he had no report from the American ambassador at Tokyo on his visit to the Japanese foreign office today, and would make no comment on the purposes of his visit.

Ambassador Grew called on the foreign minister to obtain an authentic copy of the Japanese statement. It was said he had not discussed the policy itself or its application to American interests in China.

Official Expression.

Tokyo, April 25 (AP)—American concern over Japan's declared intention to oppose occidental dealings with China which from Japan's own viewpoint "endanger the peace of eastern Asia," found official expression today.

The United States attitude was

Mayor Disapproves Of Bill That Would Add 4 Cops to City

Bill Passed by Legislature Now Before Governor Lehman for Signature—It Provides an 8-Hour Day for Policemen—Means Additional Police in City at Expense of Over $8,000—Heiselman Not in Favor of Bill.

A bill has been passed by the state legislature and is now before the governor for his approval or disapproval, and if it is signed and becomes a law it will make it necessary for Kingston to add four more policemen to its force at an added expense of over $8,000 a year.

Other cities would also be affected by the bill which provides for an 8-hour day for policemen in the state, and that if they are forced to work over time as an emergency they be recompensed for their overtime.

The bill also provides that if the chief of police of any police department works his men more than eight hours, except in a case of emergency, that he is subject to a fine and jail sentence. It also makes mandatory the granting of 14 days vacation with pay to all policemen.

Mayor Heiselman stated this morning that he has never been in favor of the bill, and had notified Ulster county representatives in the Senate and Assembly to that effect. The bill is sponsored by the New York police conference.

The bill was brought to the attention of the police board Wednesday evening by Mayor Heiselman.

Other Matters Before Board

The police board also adopted a resolution asking the common council to adopt a regulation fixing a rate of $2 a trip for city calls for the ambulance and $5 a trip for trips outside the city.

The board also decided to take out a fleet policy on the motor equipment of the department and all of the other city departments using motor vehicles will be asked to participate in this fleet policy as fast as their present policies expire.

There has been no insurance carried by the street department for a number of years. This fleet policy on motor equipment is expected to save the city from 25 to 35 per cent in the amount of premiums paid.

New $419,000,000 Revenue Bill Is On Way to Enactment For Kidnaped Child Represents Surprising Victory For Senate's High Tax Bloc—Agreement Reached Last Night—Accords Many Tax Increases.

Washington, April 25 (AP)—A bill providing a revenue of $419,000,000 was introduced today by the Senate's high-tax bloc, on its way today toward final congressional enactment.

Senate-House conferees on the budgeting tax measure came to agreement last night after two days of hot working work.

The bill is expected to be virtually all the Senate increases in estate and gift taxes, the capital stock and excess profits taxes, and liberal compromises over income tax, public utility and consolidated returns.

The conference agreement was complete except for the Senate amendment adding 10 per cent to all individual income tax returns next year.

The House will take a separate vote on this. That chamber also will be the first to act on the conference report.

House Democratic leaders do not look for floor consideration before Monday. Should the House reject the 10 per cent "recovery" tax proposed by Senator Coughlin (R-Mich.) and accept the report, only Senate approval of the report would be required to send the measure to the White House.

It was generally believed today the Senate would not insist on the 10 per cent Coughlin proposal if the House disapproved it.

Agreement on the bill cleared the way for early action on another major measure, the reciprocal tariff proposal which the House has already passed.

Senate Tax bill conferees were highly jubilant over their numerous victories across the adjustment table.

Part of this arose from inclusion of the most liberal income tax public provision ever to escape conference shears. The La Follette amendment, subjecting entire returns to public inspection, was modified to make only part of the return public.

But even this was more than the independents looked for.

Under the new provision, a taxpayer will be required to file a separate statement with his return giving his name and address, total gross income, total deductions, net income, and total credits against net income and tax payable.

As for the bill as a whole, the $419,000,000 experts estimated the conference draft would raise in the first full year of operation does not take into account the $55,000,000 which the added one-year 10 per cent income levy would bring in.

The House conferees won their principal victories on the income tax schedule. Their smaller successes on the lower income brackets—4 to 10 per cent on net incomes from $4,000 to $22,000 in lieu of the Senate's 5 to 21 per cent—were agreed to. The maximum surtax is 59 per cent compared with 55 in existing law.

The earned income credit provision was compromised, with the 10 per cent deduction from net income for tax purposes being allowed on net incomes up to $14,000 instead of $20,000 provided by the Senate and $8,000 by the House. The flat normal income tax of 1 per cent was not in controversy.

The Senate estate taxes, ranging from one per cent on net estates of $20,000 to 50 per cent on those above $10,000,000, were accepted. The house group, however, won restoration of the existing $50,000 gross estate exemption as against the Senate's $40,000.

Glasco Man Kills Self With Gun, Believe His Lack of Job Was Cause

Frank Mauro, Jr., Found Dead By Five Year Old Son—Cornerer Concludes Death Was Suicide.

Said to have been dependent over the fact that for nearly two years he had been out of work, Frank Mauro, Jr., 33, of Glasco, went into the garage at the rear of his home Wednesday afternoon, sat down on a pile of bags and placed the muzzle of a shotgun under his chin fired a charge of No. 6 shot that tore open the whole right side of his head.

Mauro was found by his little son, John, aged five, who missing his father went to look for him. He opened the door to the garage and was horrified to see his father lying in the corner, covered with blood. His cries brought Mrs. Mauro, accompanied by her husband's brother, Alfred.

Police Captain Richter of Saugerties was at once informed of what had taken place and after notifying Coroner W. N. Conner went to the scene. The cornerer, accompanied by Arthur Keator, immediately went to the Mauro home and after an investigation Coroner Conner gave a verdict of suicide by shooting. The body was brought to the Conner funeral home and later turned over to Undertaker Galletta of Glasco, who has charge of the funeral arrangements.

State Trooper Reilly and Deputy Sheriff Vredenburg and Roosa also made an investigation of the affair.

In addition to despondency over lack of work there is said to have been some question regarding insurance following a fire which did considerable damage to the Mauro home not long since.

Loughran Denies All Charges Lodged By Supervisors' Board

County Superintendent of Highways Answers Charges Brought by Democratic Supervisors—Crime Examined.

County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran was on the witness stand all day Wednesday and his direct examination was completed shortly before 4 o'clock. Cross examination was then taken up and at 5 o'clock he was still being examined by County Attorney Ewig.

Mr. Loughran denied all of the eighteen charges lodged by the Democratic supervisors who are seeking to remove him from office.

Mr. Loughran held to his contention that under the law he was charged with the construction, maintenance and repair of county highways and bridges in the county and that so long as he did not overdraw the general county highway fund he was not bound by the highway law to spend exactly the amount appropriated by the board of supervisors on any one project and then immediately stop work if it is in the interest of safety and public use further expenditure of money from the general highway fund would complete the job. He made it plain that he was charged with the duty of giving to the people of the county an honest and just administration of the general highway fund but that even though the board might appropriate certain amounts for certain projects, that he could legally exceed that amount in order to further the best interest of the county and complete a project and that it was not an illegal act to do so provided the general highway fund was not overdrawn.

The charge that Mr. Loughran had used his office to build up and further a political organization in Ulster county was denied.

Used Card System

Mr. Loughran said that in 1921 his organization had become a large one. That year he decided to secure for the protection of the county the signatures of all men working on the highways. A card system was adopted. The applicant for a job was required to sign a card and also some person from his town was supposed to sign the card certifying that the man was eligible for a job, that he was a good man, not a cripple but able to do the work required.

However Mr. Loughran said the card system was used but one year and then discontinued because it was made a "political issue". He said he never instructed any foreman to have Republican or any other committee sign the cards. It was after one Republican committee man had informed him that the cards were becoming a nuisance to him that the system was discontinued. At least one committee man requested the cards be dropped as he was being bothered by job seekers. They have not been used since.

At one time during the trial Mr. Fleming, who appears as counsel for Mr. Loughran, said that in the event the county superintendent did expend all of the general highway appropriation then it was the duty of the county treasurer to so notify the county superintendent and "he would do so quickly enough." It was emphasized that the accounting was done by the county treasurer and not by the county superintendent and that under the law and the resolutions of the board of supervisors the county highway superintendent was charged only with doing highway and bridge work within the appropriation made by the board.

Van Etten Bridge Work

During the afternoon session Mr. Loughran testified as to the work done at the Van Etten place in Denning in relation to shovel work on the Rondout creek after the flood had done damage. Mr. Loughran said that he had not seen Mr. Van Etten when he made his inspection trip there after the flood and ordered work done to protect the abutment of the Van Etten Bridge. While the work was being done he did see Mr. Van Etten.

At that time the shovel was in the creek doing work and Mr. Loughran said he told Van Etten what he intended to do and asked him if he had any objection to that. The shovel and gravel taken from the creek channel and placed in on the right side of the creek along the Van Etten property. Mr. Van Etten had no objection to that.

Asked as to the removal of the cost of removing this material from the creek and throwing it on the bank to its original position, Mr. Loughran said the cost had been $455.35.

He said that a shovel of the town of Wawarsing had been employed and that he had forwarded to the town of Wawarsing a check drawn by Mr. Van Etten to the amount of $455.35. This check was sent to Wawarsing officials as part payment of the cost of the shovel work. The rest of the work to that extent had been paid by Mr. Van Etten. Mr. Loughran said that in doing the work he had only one thing in mind, the protection of the county bridge known as the Van Etten bridge. That was the purpose of sending the shovel in there.

Explains About Ter Bush

Asked about the alleged work done in 1924 on the Charles Ter Bush property in Denning, Mr. Loughran said he never knew any work had been done there until about 20 hours prior to his being served with the bill of particulars in the present action. He explained that matter in the following manner:

In 1924, after the flood work was sent to the sheriff of the county for aid from residents of Denning. That call was forwarded to the office of county superintendent of highways. Having in mind the experiences of Vassarville people when a serious flood visited that state, he said he immediately went to the aid of the people in the flood area. He was asked if he had any way of getting through to the flood area and he went to Ellenville where he hired and paid for an old car and was driven with difficulty to the Sundown valley. On the way up from Napanoch he made inspection of several bridges which had been damaged by the flood and with extreme difficulty the driver of the car got him as far as Eureka. From there on the going was terrible but they reached Sundown Church, where the car was abandoned and he proceeded on foot for a couple of miles. In places he had to use the former bed of the creek because the highway was washed out. At the Avery place the road had disappeared and he proceeded on up what had been Pigeon creek to Sundown, where he was met by a number of citizens.

They requested that the something be done for Denning and asked him to use his influence with the board of supervisors to get them help.

At the time it was not possible to assemble the board immediately and aid was urgent so he told them he would send up a gas shovel to protect bridges and assist the town in getting out of its condition. Glen Sheeley was sent up with a shovel and told to go to work as would benefit the people most. Mr. Loughran said he saw the town of Denning officials and it was left to them to put the shovel to best use.

The first he heard of the fill at the Ter Bush property was just prior to the filing of the bill of particulars in the present action. Since then he had gone there and saw the fill. It was stream refuse placed in and back of a cribbing. The material had been shoveled from the creek and the work assisted in maintaining the creek in its own position.

In turn he denied the allegations in the whole 18 charges lodged. The Van Etten bridge he said did connect two traveled public highways. As long as he had been in the department that road had been a public road. He recalled that when the old bridge went out a temporary structure had been built by the town of Denning superintendent of highways, John J. Coddington. In 1929 Mr. Loughran said he designed the present structure and caused it to be built as a county bridge.

Four Bridges Asked

He identified a document in evidence which he said he had received from residents of the town in October, 1928, asking that four bridges in the town be built as county bridges. They are John H. Brooks bridge at Sundown, Van Etten bridge 52 1/2 feet between abutments over the Rondout, A. W. Dimmick bridge further up the Rondout and Buttermilk Falls bridge up the Rondout over a stream entering the Rondout.

At the Van Etten bridge he said after the bridge it was about 50 feet to the Van Etten gate where private property commenced but there was a road immediately after crossing the bridge which ran east up the creek to the Wright place.

To the third charge which alleges that in 1929 he told someone that unless Denning elected a Republican supervisor no more money would be spent in the town, he also entered a denial. He said Ed Sheeley was foreman on a job there and Garrett Van Wagenen was employed on the job at State Camp bridge. He denied that he had told them or anyone in their presence that if Denning failed to elect a Republican supervisor no more work would be done. "I most certainly did not," was his reply.

Asked to having made a similar statement in the town of Shawangunk in 1929 he denied it. He said the Hogeberg road job had been a town job and the men were employed by the town superintendent. "I do not remember even intimating or inferring such a thing," was his reply to the charge that he had said Shawangunk would get no money if a Democrat was elected.

In answer to the charge that he spent money in excess of that appropriated for certain projects and that such acts were illegal he also denied that charge. He said that correspondence showed he had requested authority from the state department to expend an additional $3,000 on road 66 in order to finish it and had stated to the state department that he would assume responsibility of the board of supervisors appropriating additional money to cover that amount. He said that he needed that amount to finish macadam, erect guard rails and place shoulders in road to make the road safe for travel. The state department had approved the additional amount and later the board of supervisors had authorized the expenditure. His testimony in regard to road 66 was the same and he asked for $3,000.

additional in order to complete that work. This money, he said, had been made necessary by reason of a flood which had made so many additional bridges at the bridge and bridge property in order to save the town from being cut off. He said that the state department had approved the expenditure of the money and that he had been authorized to spend it. He said that the state department had approved the expenditure of the money and that he had been authorized to spend it.

public beds and alleged that on Road 66 stone was bought for $3 a yard when it might have been bought for $2.25.

Mr. Loughran said he bought his stone from Henry DeLoe of Accord. A witness named Joseph DeLoe, who was present at the state requirements. The complaint charges that Joseph DeLoe would have supplied the stone for $2.25 a yard. Mr. Loughran said he did not recall meeting Mr. DeLoe while Road 66 was under way. There was no correspondence in his office from Mr. DeLoe offering stone for $2.25. The witness said he knew of the Sullivan county quarry while Road 66 was under way. Asked as to the quality of the stone he said, "most satisfactory" and was then stopped by an objection and the question was withdrawn.

Mr. Loughran said he had been recommended to inspect the stone from Briggs Street and that this was stone wall stone, not from a quarry. Coughlin did offer stone from the Briggs Street plant but that was fence stone and not suitable and would not meet the requirements.

Tells About Quarry

Mr. Loughran said he knew of the Sullivan county quarry. He knew the stone in question and knew of tests of that stone, where it had been used, when it had been used and knew of a statement of its acceptability or non-acceptability. Asked as to that Mr. Ewig took an objection and was sustained 17 to 14. The question was not answered.

As to Charge No. 6, he denied that also. It alleges that he directed the contractor on the Napanoch bridge not to buy stone or gravel from a resident of Ulster county on the grounds of the quarry when there were provisions in the contract of March 1934 which prevented the purchase of stone outside the county. Mr. Loughran said he had written to Manstlin Engineering Corporation, contractors, asking them if it could

Issue New Stamp For Mother's Day

A special commemorative postage stamp which will be issued by the Post Office Department in honor of mothers will be of interest to the general public as well as to stamp collectors. "Mother's Day" this year will fall on Sunday, May 13. The special postage stamp to be issued as a tribute to the mothers of America will be placed on sale beginning May 3 or as soon as production will permit.

The new commemorative stamp will be issued in the 3-cent denomination and will be printed in purple. The stamp is in the form of a horizontal rectangle, 84-100 by 1 44-100 inches in dimensions. Inclosed in a narrow double line border.

The Mother's commemorative stamp will be first placed on sale.

May 2 at the post office in Washington, D. C. The stamp will be available for sale at once thereafter as production will permit. The benefit of stamp collectors, the new commemorative stamp will also be placed on sale May 2 at the Philatelic Agency, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C.

Mailing Mother's Day Gifts. It is probable that the new commemorative stamp will be much in demand by people who send gifts to mothers, preceding Mother's Day. A Mother's Day gift, wrapped securely and bearing Mother's commemorative stamp, with a special delivery stamp affixed in addition to insure delivery on Mother's Day—Sunday, May 13—will convey much more sentiment than the gift itself might imply. Without doubt, local merchants will have many offerings for Mother's Day gifts, and the post office will be ready at all times to do its part with Mother's commemorative stamp, special delivery stamps and various other forms of stamps and service which are offered to all patrons.

First Day Cancellations. Stamp collectors desiring first-day cancellations of the Mother's stamp may send a limited number of addressed covers, not to exceed a total of ten, to the Postmaster, Washington, D. C., with cash or postal money of order remittance to exactly cover the value of the stamps required for affixing. Personal checks and other postage stamps will positively not be accepted in payment. Covers will be accepted from individual subscribers only, and each cover must be properly and legibly addressed. In view of the larger size of the stamp special care must be taken when addressing covers to bear blocks of stamps to allow sufficient clear space for the attaching of the stamp and impression of the postmark. Compliance cannot be made with unusual requests, such as for the affixing of stamps bearing plate number or for the irregular placing of the stamps on the covers, etc. To facilitate handling and to prevent damage in transit, covers should be of the ordinary letter size.

Requests for a supply of uncanceled stamps of the new commemorative issue should not be included with orders for first-day covers. Such stamps when desired for mailing purposes should be purchased at the Kingston post office or Uptown Station or Rondout Station. Stamps of selected quality needed for collection use may be obtained on mail orders to the Philatelic Agency of the Post Office Department.

I. G. A. Grocers at Dinner Meeting

Several members from this vicinity attended the eighth annual I. G. A. Grocers' dinner meeting, held in Poughkeepsie Tuesday evening, April 24. More than 200 delegates from the Hudson valley and western Connecticut were welcomed by Mayor Spratt.

Other speakers were William A. Dolan, Manufacturers' Association representative, A. W. Caven former mayor of Poughkeepsie, H. S. Reynolds, Moore Gates and H. K. Lewis, executives of William T. Reynolds & Company, I. G. A. Supply Depot. Local members of the NRA retail grocers' code authority were also introduced, including Harry E. Herman, secretary, and J. J. Coyle, retailers' representative, both of Newburgh.

New conditions engendered by code regulations was the chief topic of the speakers. A varied entertainment concluded the meeting. Resolutions from this vicinity included: Kingston—Mr. and Mrs. Chris Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Perry, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. DeGasperis, Arthur Organiste, Mildred Guncelmann, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bennett.

Phoenixia—J. H. Shurtler, Lois and Ruth S. Shurtler. Arkville—Mr. and Mrs. Hasbrouck Cole, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Lemong. Halcott Center—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Whitney. Windham—Grant F. Morse.

The Garden of Eden. On the supposition that the narrative in Genesis describes a real country, any number of efforts have been made to establish the location of the Garden of Eden, and many books have been written on the subject, often widely disagreeing. Some have located Eden near the town of Kurnah, in southern Babylonia, not far from the Persian gulf. This is at the junction of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers, in what is now the British mandatory kingdom of Iraq. Others have placed the Garden in Armenia, near the sources of these rivers. The region near Damascus, in Syria, has also been suggested; and some extremists have argued that it was in America, or Australia, or at the North pole. The general opinion is that the description in the second chapter of Genesis refers to southern Babylonia.

Sundown Stories
By MARY GRAM BONNER
"You shouldn't avoid the cubbies time," said Willy Niles, "as it was time for them to come out of the cave and we had all left them."
"That's true," growlingly agreed Honey Bear.

"But they do not know what they should eat and what they should not eat until they have their lessons with me, so I want them to obey me. If baby bears don't eat the right things they may be poisoned. Come along, Jupiter and Blacky, we will have lessons at once."

Honey Bear walked off with the two cubs and the others smiled to see them.

"Those cubs are just too sweet for words," said Rip, the dog, wagging his tail.

"It's just as well I'm not going to teach them," said Willy Niles. "I'd want to hug them every minute. Honey Bear adores them all right, but she won't spoil them."

"Now," said Honey Bear to the cubs, as they walked away, "you must always sleep very quietly on the soft part of your feet. Then you won't make a lot of noise when you go through the woods and people won't know you're around. Here we are safe as we have our woods to ourselves, but you must learn this lesson as it may be useful to you some time."

They were walking through the woods now, and Honey Bear thought she saw Grandpa Grouchy Galunip. But she was not going to depend on her eyesight, which was not of the best.

"Our sense of smell is keener," she said to the cubs. "We'll all stand up now and sniff the breeze and we'll be able to tell if any person is around. There it!" she exclaimed quickly.

Tomorrow—More Lessons

Night Motor Racing Is Growing in Popularity

Washington.—Night automobile racing is rapidly becoming popular the country over, it was indicated in a survey by the contest board of the American Automobile association.

Introduced three years ago at the Ascot speedway in Los Angeles, before the idea of after dark competition gripped baseball and football fans, night races drew record attendances.

However, not until recently have the lucrative possibilities of "illuminated" races become apparent to eastern and midwestern speedway operators.

Now race operators in these sections have made extensive, hurried arrangements to install illuminating facilities in their speedways in time for the season openings in late May. Track promoters at Long Island, N. Y.; Reading, Pa.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Cincinnati, and Detroit all plan to feature the comparatively new after dusk sport.

Do you doubt that you can cut your oil costs from 10% to 55% and get better lubrication? Then listen to this...

Fact No. 1—Last year the American Automobile Association tested Gulf-lube against 3 other famous 25c oils in 6 borrowed cars. Gulf-lube won 204% more miles per quart than the average of all others! It outlasted every oil in every car.

Fact No. 2—This year, motorists in various parts of the country made the "two-trip" test. They made two trips to some distant point, using a well-known 25c oil on the first trip, and Gulf-lube on the second. In every one of these tests made thus far, Gulf-lube has shown the lowest oil consumption!

"I MADE 2 TRIPS FROM ATLANTA TO JACKSONVILLE... AND GULF-LUBE TOOK ME 24% FURTHER BEFORE MY OIL LEVEL DROPPED A QUART."

MR. J. D. BOWDEN
866 Myrtle St., Adams, Ga.

Drain old, worn oil, refill with Gulf-lube—and start saving! 25c a quart!

NEW OIL TEST detects motor dirt. Ask / show it at any Gulf station.

Talks to parents

Preventive Care

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

Many parents are not aware of the importance of preventive care for their children. They do not realize that a child's health is a matter of life and death. They do not realize that a child's health is a matter of life and death.

The first day he wore his new glasses his mother said, "Are they a right fit? Do you see better?" The answer was prompt, "Yes. Things don't all have fuzzy edges now."

Many children are practically cut off from the world by imperfect vision. They do not realize it, for they have no standard of comparison, and so no way of knowing what they should see. They are afraid of looking at people because they cannot recognize them at a distance, and this lack of confidence is taken for rudeness or a preference for one's own company.

The child is thrown on himself, and by the time the cause of his trouble is found, he may have developed a self-sufficiency and an indifference to companionship which he will never outgrow.

Furthermore, having been unable to take part in games, he finds himself so far behind the others in competitive sports that he never has the courage to take them up even after his vision has been corrected. Tennis, football, all the games which require quick vision will be lost to him.

The sooner the child has his eyes examined by a good oculist, the better for him, not only for his school work, but also for his social life.

The risk of placing a child under a handicap is too great for delay.

Squinting Is Corrected

by Use of Stereoscope

Birmingham, England. — A novel method of curing children born with a squint has been adopted by a hospital. The patients are given a sort of stereoscope. A model is placed in each lens and the children have to place a loon in a cage, a baby in a bath or a sheep in the exact center of a field. The eyesight of hundreds of children have been cured in this way.

WASHINGTON Bystander

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—A friendly difference of opinion between two of the federal government's most powerful agencies of finance programs to make direct government loans to industry as actual fact before very long. James Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Eugene Black, governor of the Federal Reserve board, are the disputants.

RFC contends the Federal Reserve board already has the authority to make such loans. At three different times, it is contended, the board has been given sufficient latitude by congress to make such loans, but hasn't made use of the opportunity.

Congress has before it for consideration a bill expressly giving the board such authority. RFC likewise would be so empowered in a second bill which has been introduced.

The result may be that RFC will force the Federal Reserve board to make such loans.

Inquiry Findings Differ
ADVANCE information is that there will be a wide difference of opinion in the way the naval affairs and military affairs committees of the house view the existing law under which these two arms of the service enter into contracts for equipment.

Both committees have been holding separate investigations into the question for weeks.

The committee on naval affairs is expected to hold its report on the existing law in its report on the military affairs committee, which recommended all sorts of changes.

The committee on military affairs is expected to hold its report on the naval affairs committee, which recommended all sorts of changes.

The speaker, floor leader and chairman of the rules committee are the men who have the most say as to what shall and shall not be done in that body.

Bankhead, since the democrats recaptured the house in 1930, has been one of the most influential among the inner circle of house leaders. As chairman of the rules committee now in his own right he assumes a position of even greater importance.

The Wigum Looks For Leadership

As the result of John F. Curry's ouster, Tammany Hall seeks a leader to sit in its headquarters, shown here, and plan the organization's comeback. Curry may be succeeded by one man or, temporarily, by a steering committee. In the latter case, Grover A. Whalen (profile), former police commissioner and city "greeter," may have a prominent place in Tammany councils. Edward J. Ahearn (left), leader of the anti-Curry revolt, is expected to play an important role in the Tammany "new deal."

Farmer Finds Mill

After 150-Mile Hunt

Granberry, Wis.—Frank Anderson, Fredrick (Wigum) farmer, recently completed a 150-mile trip in search of a grain mill where he might have a load of grain ground into flour.

The search embraced nine towns and two states. He found that in each case mills either were converted into power plants, fish hatcheries and other projects or were out of operation. Despairingly, he started the long trek homeward, only to discover a mill suitable to his purpose in a village 25 miles away.

CHARM OF WOMAN

NOT infrequently a woman has charm because her nervous system is rundown. Strong nerves and good looks go together. Read the experience of Mrs. E. H. Smith of 1941. Omaha, Neb. After a severe illness, I was very weak and nervous. I was thin and had hardly any strength at all. I had lost all of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Formulas and it certainly made a big change for the better in me. I regained my strength and health. I was no longer nervous and had no further trouble. DOES YOUR KITCHEN RANGE DATE BACK TO THIS ERA?

Just when was that old range installed in your kitchen, anyway? Fortunately, a kitchen range is less conspicuous than a car, but after all, your friends do see it, and it does definitely date your home and reflect your standard of living.

If gas ranges did not last so long, more kitchens would be up-to-date in their convenience. As a matter of fact, there is almost as much difference between the gas range of 1934 and that of 1910, as in the cars of the same dates.

Modern gas ranges have heat-insulated ovens for summer comfort and fuel saving, oven temperatures accurately regulated for better-cooking results, automatic top lighters for safety and convenience and a colorful, gleaming beauty, which will make a world of difference in any kitchen.

Visit your gas range dealer today and see the new ranges; or call at our city office where a selection of modern gas ranges, for sale by local merchants, is on permanent display.

New Paltz Normal School Activities

New Paltz, April 26.—The speaker at the Normal School chapel on Tuesday morning, April 24, was Frank P. Douglas, who spoke on "The Great Rush for Gold in the Klondike."

Miss Anne Cables, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest D. Cables, of Newburgh, and Chester C. Andrews were recently married in the Newburgh Methodist Church by the pastor, the Rev. Howard E. Thompson. Miss Cables is a graduate of New Paltz Normal School and has been teaching at Lynbrook, L. I. She was a member of the Normal Student Society. The couple will make their home in Peekskill.

Prof. Emory Jacobs was the guest of honor at the master's night which was observed by Ajamore chapter, O. E. S., in the lodge rooms at Newburgh.

Miss Irma Roy has returned to school after visiting friends in Brooklyn.

Dr. Margaret Wiley, professor of child development at Cornell University, addressed the students at special chapel in the Normal Friday morning at 11 o'clock. She also spoke in the practice school in the afternoon. The subject of her address was "Toward the New Social Order." She discussed "Problems of the Nine and Ten Year Old" in the music room of the practice school. Parents of the fourth grade children and members of the Intermediate Club were invited.

Miss Clara Wadsworth of the Normal faculty entertained Dr. Margaret Wiley during her stay in New Paltz last week.

April 30, at 8:15 o'clock a mass meeting is scheduled to be held in the Normal School auditorium. Its purpose is to begin action on New Paltz's part of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Association's fight on the disease in this section. Those who will address the meeting are Dr. Frederic Holcomb, superintendent of the Kingston Sanitarium, and George Webber, tuberculosis specialist.

The junior prom committees are: Bids, chairman, Wilhelmina Hines; Eleanor Stewart, Henry Hallock, Betty Shaw and Marion Mitchell; music, Irene Redmond, chairman; William Pardy, Arthur Chipp, Virginia Villamil and Florence Palmer; decorations, Alice Gardner, chairman; Charlotte Van Alstyne, Evelyn Wildtitz and Adele DeSilva; refreshments, Gladys Leonard, chairman; Viola Clark, Helen Tilly, Marjorie Abt and Irving Boxberger. The prom will be held Saturday night, April 28.

In behalf of the committee appointed by Dean Miss Grace MacArthur to reconstruct the activities system, Marge Mihalko reported a tentative plan before the student body at Tuesday's chapel. Its features were: A student may hold one major or two minor offices, but only one presidency. Major offices are: Presidency of Student Council, class presidencies, editorship of Paltzonette, Paltzonette and Nepano. A student may engage in three or four activities. There is no stated limit to activity points beyond the above. Frank Cuccia presented statistics to show that 108 students engage in no activities, fully one-fifth of the total school registration. Harriette Smella presented the case for limiting student activities: First, there are too few participants; secondly, small groups control activities; thirdly, the danger to health; fourthly, resulting low grades; fifthly, financial difficulties; sixth, the need for discovering and urging new talents and finally, political rings.

A LITTLE SECRET SMILE

By Anne Campbell.

WE SAT and talked beneath the trees,
A scarlet bird sang from the wall,
The wind blew silver harmonies,
And Paula did not speak at all.

Of those who shared the garden close,
She was the only prisoner;
She and a laughing yellow rose
From the green garden could not stir.

In her low chair she sat apart,
Her trusted crutches by her side,
Her eyes the mirror of her heart,
Her busy hands a sign of pride.

And as we spoke of many things,
The changing world, the lengthening mile,
She watched the flight of redbird's wings,
And smiled a little, secret smile.

Across her countenance it went,
As sunlight fits upon the sea;
And watching her, I grew content
With life, and all it gave to me.

In that gay group of women none
Abjured the world but she. . . The grace
Of her sweet spirit met the sun
And played upon her classic face.

Cakes of Salt Used as Money in Asia, Africa

Salt as a standard in the history of commerce antedates the gold standard. As a medium of exchange salt was widely used in many ancient countries. The Mogul conquerors of India made decrees hundreds of years ago regulating the standard of salt that was used for money. In Asia and Africa cakes of salt were frequently used for money.

Besides being used as money, salt in days gone by was a powerful developer of commerce. Being essential to life and unavailable to tribes remote from the sea, from which the substance was obtained by evaporation, trade routes were early developed to provide the transportation of salt. For hundreds of years a caravan route was maintained between Palmyra and Syrian ports. Even today much of the caravan traffic in Sahara is largely to this precious commodity.

The oldest road in Italy is not the Appian way, but the "Via Salaria," the salt road along which salt was anciently carried from the evaporating pits at Ostia to the Sabine territory.

Bell-Ringing Swans

In the most surrounding the Bishop's palace at Wells, Somerset, England, there are swans who ring for their meals by pulling a rope that is attached to a bell. Nearly a hundred years ago a daughter of one of the bishops taught the swans to do this. She had the bell with the rope fitted up in such a position that the swans could reach it from the water. Soon the birds were interested in the long, dangling cord. Directly any of the birds pulled the rope hard enough to ring the bell some bread was thrown out.

In quite a short time the birds discovered that, when they were hungry, all they had to do was to ring the bell to get food. Of course, all the swans that first learned the trick of ringing for their meals are now dead; but the idea has been taken up by the generations of the young birds as these come along, and before they have changed their brown feathers for the white ones of the adult birds, the cygnets are busy bell-ringing whenever they feel in need of a meal!

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

The Associated Press—
One King: One Month.
Because he killed a girl violently that her jaw broke in three places, Zoltan Vlasar, a civil servant, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment.

Zionites May Smoke.
Zion III—After June, you may smoke cigarettes and eat pork in Zion without fear of arrest.
Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva sponsored that announcement. Smoke has been arrested in Zion.

Where?
Chicago—It looks like Officer Arthur Anderson may serve a traffic violation warrant on Robert Pyzel—if he hangs on to it for a few more years.

When he first tried to serve it, he found the Pyzels had moved to the Balaire Petroleum Main Building in Balairepark, Borneo.

Then he received a letter from Mrs. Pyzel who had read accounts of the incident. They are now coming to Chicago, she said, but not until after they complete an assignment at a place over a border to Spain.

Nature Lesson.
Columbia, Pa. Rather than disturb a mother robin sitting on her nest, ten pupils in the Marygrove school are using the baby bird exclusively. The nest was built on a fire escape beside the front door.

These Modern Children.
Kearville, N. S. Joseph H. H. Graham told his court, "Many young school girls know more about a number of matters than I do." Counsel for the plaintiff in a breach of promise suit had called the Judge's attention to the many years' period present, and asked that all persons be excluded.

On A Shoe String.
Toronto—An untied shoe lace has ended the career of John Langley, 27, as a promising young violinist. Langley was practicing for a trap shooting contest when he tripped over the lace and fell, discharging his gun.
The shot mangled the index finger of his left hand, the hand most important to a violinist.

SIMPLE ACCESSORIES ENSEMBLE KEYNOTE

Simplicity in accessories is the keynote to an attractive ensemble for the 4-H girl, according to Mrs. Nevin, clothing specialist of Cornell University. Many of the older 4-H girls of the county are making complete outfits and selecting the accessories to accompany them. At a leaders' training meeting on April 25, Mrs. Nevin discussed selection of shoes, hose, hats, scarfs, pocket books, blouses, collars and gloves. Choosing simple accessories gives an opportunity for originality and pleasing trimmings on the dress. Mrs. Nevin emphasized the selection of harmonizing colors and fabrics.

Through the courtesy of A. Hymes Shoe Store and the J. C. Penney Company, of Kingston, accessories were shown and two complete ensembles arranged. Those who attended the meeting were: Mrs. Frank Ennist and Mrs. Hugh Ferguson, Lake Katrine; Miss Anna Devine, Rifton; Mrs. Eugene Terwilliger, Brunswick; Mrs. William Limbacher, Sawkill; Mrs. John McCabe, Wallkill; Mrs. C. E. Powell, and Mrs. Lillian Gardner, Mt. Tremper; Mrs. Alonzo Davis, Olive Bridge; Anna DuBois and Marie Rhinehart, New Paltz; Mrs. William Carter, Clintonville; and Mrs. Josephine Spering, Stone Ridge.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

An All-Occasion Dress.
PATTERN 8168.

Here is a style easy to wear and most becoming to the larger woman. First because it has a belt in the back only, leaving the line unbroken from shoulder to hem. Second, because of the lines of the panel front and back, and third because of the most attractive collar.

The simplicity in the making is a very important consideration to women who do their own sewing and this is a dress which answers that requirement. A printed silk with a dark background and small, gay figure, such as is shown in the sketch is the best material for this dress.
Designed in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 44 requires 4 1/2 yards of 38 inch material. The smart collar (together with lining for collar) and vest in contrast requires a piece 1 1/2 yard long by 14 inches wide.
A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Loughran Again On Witness Stand

Mr. Loughran, who was called to the stand by the State department, testified that he had been in the Van Etten bridge when it was built. He said that he had been in the Van Etten bridge when it was built. He said that he had been in the Van Etten bridge when it was built.

Asked as to how he could tell the highway department he would give consent of the board for additional work, he said that he knew that in his own mind. The board had given requests at times but he felt that he could not give this approval. He said that he had been in the Van Etten bridge when it was built. He said that he had been in the Van Etten bridge when it was built.

Question Withdrawn. Asked if he recalled that the state department in 1924 had refused to consent to a plan of work Mr. Loughran objected as that date was far prior to the dates of the complaint. The question was withdrawn by the State.

Asked by Mr. Ewig how long he had known the Van Etten place in Denning he said John Coddington had been town superintendent and he had called there on official duties when Coddington lived on the place. He said he had been informed that the Addison Wright road was a public one. It was a one track road. He had been over the road years ago. At present he said he knew the place was not occupied. Mr. Loughran said that he had been at the Van Etten place recently, not as a guest of Mr. Van Etten. He had visited his sister there. Mr. Loughran said that Mr. Van Etten had married his half sister and they lived in New Rochelle where he visited his sister at times. Since 1929 he had visited her also at the place in Denning.

In 1928 he said he was told the Wright place was on the road along the creek and that for many years it had been occupied and the road along the creek used. The first he knew the Wright place was occupied now was when Mr. Wright said the place had not been occupied in some twenty years.

The Van Etten Bridge.

In building the Van Etten bridge he said he knew it to be a public bridge and he built it to carry 8 tons as that was the requirement for such a bridge, on a secondary road. In Gardner he said he had built 10-ton bridges, that was on a main route. He did not consider the amount of traffic to use the Denning bridge as that did not figure in the capacity. The Gardner bridges were entirely different, they were on a road which has since been taken over by the state as a part of the state highway system. It was load capacity not number of vehicles which determined the load capacity to be built.

When he built the Van Etten bridge he ascertained that it was on a public road and that the Wright road was a public road but he did not inquire whether the place was occupied.

He was asked if he knew that the law provided that a road which was not worked and not used in six years should be a public road and was termed an abandoned road. He said he knew the law.

Mr. Loughran said he did not recall a gate at the Van Etten road beyond the bridge, there was a gate-way.

"Well you are more technical than we lawyers," said Mr. Ewig. "Well a gate-way can't obstruct," said the witness.

Shows pictures of the place he said they showed a gate but he could not recall a gate there.

He denied that there was a sudden drop at the end of the Van Etten bridge where the Wright road used to run. It could be easily used even though the pictures might indicate otherwise. He said he had no difficulty in getting off the bridge on the Wright road.

He was last over the Wright road in 1928 when he walked over a part of it. He said at that time he could have driven his car over at least a portion of it but you could not now.

Recess to 1:30.

Mortgage Authority Plan Is Defeated

Albany, N. Y., April 26 (AP).—The Desmond mortgage authority plan was defeated in the Senate today by a vote of 20 to 27.

Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican and co-author of the bill with Moreland Commissioner George W. Alger, immediately after the vote said that he would make another attempt to put the measure through today.

"If the bill is not passed," he said, "it will probably mean a special session of the legislature to give relief to the holders of mortgage certificates."

The measure came to a vote shortly after 1 a. m. during the two hour debate which preceded the roll call. Senator Elmer F. Quinn, New York Democrat, called George S. Van Schaick, state superintendent of insurance, and charged him with incompetence.

"The superintendent of insurance should have been removed two years ago," Quinn said. "He is absolutely incompetent and he has been woefully negligent with the savings of the unfortunate people who hold these certificates."

Senator Desmond replied that the purpose of the bill was to take the mortgage question out of the hands of the superintendent of insurance, and that it was being pressed at the suggestion of Van Schaick.

"There's nothing in this bill which defends the superintendent of insurance," Desmond declared. "But I'm not ready to pass judgment on him until the Moreland commission has finished investigating him and has made its report."

CLOTHING BUREAU MAKES AN APPEAL FOR CLOTHING

The clothing bureau of the TERA is in need of used clothing, and now that housewives are busy housecleaning it is urged that old garments be set aside for the bureau. The bureau is located on the third floor of the building housing the TERA on Pine Grove avenue, where old garments are reconditioned at the work shop. There are still about 600 children on the list in need of clothes. Anyone who has shoes or clothing they plan to discard are urged to get in touch with the bureau. The telephone call is 2710. Some time ago the bureau appealed for a cook stove, two beds and two baby carriages, but have not received any response to the appeal.

Large Group Hears Fru Michelet Speek

Fru Michelet, vice president of the Associated Countrywomen of the World, who was guest speaker at a tea given at the Rural Women's Market, Milton, Wednesday afternoon, spoke to a large group of Ulster county homemakers.

Michelet was introduced to the group by Mrs. Edward Young of Milton. Fru Michelet being her guest at this time. Mrs. Young and Fru Michelet met in Vienna, while attending the international conference of the Country Women of the World.

Fru Michelet told of the work being done through the National Housewives' Association of Norway, an organization of homemakers similar to the Home Bureaus of the United States. She also told of the international understanding that had been brought about through the organizations of homemakers in the four countries of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland. Fru Michelet is president of this organization.

Fru Michelet reminded the homemakers present that the educational program coming to the homemakers of not only America, but other countries of the world through Home Bureaus and similar organizations is only a means to an end. The end being the high type of homes that our nations wish to develop. That the courses they are getting in foods, clothing, arts and crafts are only means of helping them to have more attractive and convenient homes—homes worthy to be the dwelling place for the spirit within, and to free their time for more time to develop the spirit of the home.

Ulster county homemakers are most fortunate in having had the opportunity of hearing this distinguished homemaker and organizer from abroad.

NEW RACKET THAT MAY BE TRIED IN KINGSTON SOON

The teletype machine in police headquarters this morning carried a story of a new racket that had been worked successfully in Huntington, L. I., by three negroes, one of them a woman. They would enter a house owned by a negro and while there claim they had found $500 in the house. So that the police would not get wise they would tell the house owner that it would be best to deposit a $1,000 in a local bank, and if he would give them the additional $200 needed to make up the thousand they would split even with him each receiving $500. Of course after they got the $200 they blew.

Mr. Hill of Quarryville had the unusual experience Wednesday evening of having a perfect stranger enter his home and after telling her she had fallen into a quarry hole, remove his wet clothing, grab a towel and run from the house.

Mr. Hill notified Sergeant Cunningham of the state troopers, who are in touch with the sheriff's office. A search for the man was immediately taken up by Sergeant Cunningham, Corporal Baker, Trooper Decker and Deputy Sheriff Abramson, and Clayton Vreden, who were joined by a number of residents of Quarryville.

At midnight the officers found the missing man crouched under a tree back in the woods, the trunk of the tree pulled about him for some protection from the cold. His whole body was cut and bruised and he was in a serious condition.

It was found that the man was Frank Saar, 35, whose address was 1001 Bay, Poppy avenue and 4th street, Brooklyn, who had come up Sunday to the home of Lewis Kucheneiser at Quarryville. He was removed to the Kucheneiser home after being wrapped up in blankets, and Dr. Gifford of Saugerties was called. The doctor said that there was danger of Saar contracting pneumonia as a result of his experience and ordered him taken to the Benedictine Hospital, which was reported as about the same as when he was brought in last night. Mrs. Saar was expected to arrive from their home in Brooklyn this morning.

Senate Defeated Bill To Advertise Milk

Ostertag Measure to Spread Fortune on Publicity Lines Under by Vote of 23-22—Senator Wicks Voted in the Negative.

Albany, N. Y., April 25 (AP)—The Senate early today defeated the Ostertag bill which proposed to create a revolving fund of from $500,000 to $1,000,000 to advertise milk.

The purpose of the measure was to stimulate consumption of milk and help wipe out the surplus. It was voted down by a vote of 23 to 22 after a long debate. Twenty-four votes were needed for passage. The measure had already passed the Assembly. It proposed to raise the money by a levy of one-half cent a hundred pounds on all milk sold by the farmer and another one-half cent a hundred pounds on the distributor.

The measure was sponsored in the upper House by Senator William T. Byrne, Albany county Democrat. "We must look work around the capitol that this bill was loaded with politics," he said. "Somebody said it was to build up a big political campaign fund. I can't see any politics in it. I think there is no motive behind this bill but to help the farmer."

Most of the opposition came from New York city Democrats. Senator Thomas E. Burchill charged that the measure would increase the price of milk to consumers. He said:

"This money can only come from one source—the consumer. It means an additional cost for milk." Senator Benjamin F. Feinberg, Plattsburg Republican, said: "I don't think this bill will be a burden to anyone. It won't increase the price of milk. It will only increase consumption and help the farmer."

Assemblyman Harold C. Ostertag, Wyoming county Republican and sponsor of the bill, was sitting at the rear of the chamber when it was defeated. Senators voting no were: Berg, Buckley, Butthill, Crawford, Esquivel, Evans, Pearson, Feld, Howard, Joseph, Mandelbaum, McNaboe, Nunan, D. T. O'Brien, H. L. O'Brien, Palmer, Quinn, Troyer, Wald, Westfall, Wicks and Wojcikowski. Absentees were Cheney, Glano, McCall, Thompson, Webb and Williams. Total 22.

Fearon, Westfall and Wicks are Republicans. The others are Democrats.

Those favoring the bill were: Blumberg, Dunnigan, Mastick, Desmond, Byrne, Ross, Baxter, Feinberg, Thayer, Patrie, Kernan, Pitcher, Stokes, Lord, Frost, Hewitt, Warner, Hanley, Slater, Lee, Kirkland, Hendel and Kleinfeld. Total 23.

Dunnigan, Byrne, Ross, Kernan, Hendel and Kleinfeld are Democrats. The others are Republicans.

PLAN AUTO TUNNEL FOR MOUNT BLANC

Would Speed Trip Between France and Italy.

Turin, Italy.—The monarch of the Alps, Mount Blanc, is to have a motor tunnel that will be about nine or ten miles long. The plan has been put before the duke, who has approved, without pledging the government in the matter of expense.

There have been several schemes in the past to run a tunnel through Mount Blanc, which would provide a quick and useful new means of communication between France and Italy and Switzerland. The last project was for a railroad tunnel between the valley of the Aosta in France and the valley of Aosta in Italy.

The scheme for a motor road is more practical, though inevitably also very costly. It has this advantage over building a railroad track that is needed to construct approach roads. The existence of the tunnel also would constrain the local authorities to build new, or improve old roads, so as to take advantage of the new communication.

The plan which is likely the work of the Swiss engineer, Anthony Bron, contemplates a road bored through Mount Blanc which would run from Chamoinx on the French side of Mount Blanc to Entreves on the Italian side.

The tunnel would provide a marvelous encouragement for winter sports, allowing its votaries to travel to and from between France, Italy and Switzerland quickly and easily to the most suitable sports grounds at any given time of the year.

Canadian Indian Tells of Giant in Mountains

Montreal.—Evidence that mountain giants are roaming about ranges in the Fraser valley in British Columbia were reported recently with details of a narrow escape from death of an Indian fisherman on the Harrison river. The Indian was reported gilding along slowly in his canoe when, without warning, a rock was thrown from the top of the cliff, plunging into the water within a foot of the canoe. The boat was almost swamped. The Indian fisherman was drenched.

The startled Indian looked upward and said he saw a huge, hairy man bounding down the cliff side, carrying under his arm another large rock. This the wild man hurled at the canoe, missing the frail craft by inches.

On missing the boat a second time the monster swung his arms wildly and prepared to leap into the water. The fisherman said. The fisherman slashed his lines and paddled away as fast as he could.

PUBLIC ENEMY NO. 1

Death, Robbery in Dillinger's Wake;
Caught in Arizona, Jailed in Indiana

TRAPPED IN ARIZONA

FLORENCE TO INDIANA

ARRAIGNED AT CROWN POINT

WITH HIS JAILER AND PROSECUTOR

Freed from an Ohio jail by three killer-crowns, John Dillinger was on the loose October 12 to start a bloody game of hide-and-seek with the law. His hand was seen in two raids on police station arsenals in Indiana. In Chicago a trap was laid for him, but he ducked it in a rain of bullets. On January 15 he was identified as one of four bandits who plundered a bank in East Chicago, Ind., and killed Plainclothesman Patrick O'Malley. Police were summoned as the robbery began and had surrounded the entrance when the machine-gun-armed thugs emerged. They shot their way free. Two other officers were killed in Illinois by alleged members of the Dillinger gang as the chase continued. Then on January 25 the police at Tucson, Ariz., captured three Dillinger henchmen, and lay in wait in the hideout for the ringleader. He walked into the trap with a woman friend and, although armed, gave up easily. Dillinger was caught! Both Indiana and Wisconsin wanted him, but the former won out and the slippery badman was taken by plane to Crown Point, Ind. He is shown above in court at Crown Point, where his trial for killing the East Chicago detective was set for March 12. Dillinger was locked up in the Lake County jail there after being photographed (lower right) with his jailer, Sheriff Lillian Holley (left) and the man who was to prosecute him, Robert C. Estill (center). The desperado seemed cheerful in Crown Point—but he didn't stay long. (Tomorrow—Dillinger whittles his way to freedom and America's greatest man-hunt begins.)

Publicity For Police?
Good Gracious, No!

the matter should be threshed out before the entire board and Commissioner Connelly said he would like to have Commissioner Thomas F. Goldrick's ideas on the subject.

Commissioner Goldrick was not present, and Commissioner Cordts suggested that it might be wiser to proceed as usual without a reporter when the whole board was present and the board could discuss the matter and decide whether reporters should be allowed to attend.

"Why," suggested Commissioner Cordts, "can not the secretary of the board write out what should be printed after the meeting and give it to the press who could wait around outside until we adjourned?" He did not see himself what interest the public had in the proceedings of the board and was reminded that the last meeting of the board had proven a hot one and that was likely why a reporter was present to witness it.

There would be any more verbal fireworks at the present meeting.

"Well," said Dr. Connelly, with a smile, "there was not a reporter present at the last meeting, but the Freeman carried an accurate account of what transpired."

"There must have been a leak somewhere," said Commissioner Cordts, but where the leak had occurred even the police board was unable to ascertain.

Finally after some more discussion of the subject the board decided to bar the reporter from the meeting and then proceeded with its weighty deliberations as to how many buttons a policeman should wear on his coat and other important matters that should be kept secret from the general public.

Full Pay Agreement Reached on Railroads

Washington, April 25 (AP)—Railway labor and management agreed today to a restoration of the full pay of the workers on April 1, 1935.

In compromise agreement after a long series of conferences between the Railway Labor Executives Association and the conference committee of managers it was agreed that the ten per cent deduction from checks of the workers which has been made for the last two years should be gradually restored during the next year.

The employees will receive a restoration of 2 1/2 per cent on July 1 of this year; 2 1/2 per cent on January 1, 1935, and the remainder on April 1, 1935.

The agreement came after negotiations started March 15, apparently failed and Joseph B. Eastman, federal conductor of transportation, had announced that his efforts at mediating the situation had failed. Eastman withdrew last Saturday and on Monday the managers and labor got together unexpectedly and worked out the compromise.

Criminal's Flight Ends in Kansas City

One-time New York Taxi Driver Gives Self Up to Detectives After Two and One-half Year Chase—Gun Notched Twice.

Kansas City, April 25—Max Chipman's 2 1/2 year flight from Boston police who sent four men to prison for the $40,000 ransom abduction of Herman Rutstein in which he was the alleged "finger man" is at an end.

The former New York taxi driver, with a revolver marked on the handle with two notches, was surprised last night in a night club by detectives who have dogged his trail as he moved from city to city, never staying more than a night in a hotel, fearing capture.

Max dropped a dice game he was playing and started to ease his way out. Detective Lieutenant George V. Augusta and Detective Joseph Decker, both of Boston, and Kansas City officers followed. When he reached the sidewalk, Lieutenant Augusta said:

"All right, Mac."

Max took another step.

"I'll blow your head off," warned Decker.

Max turned.

"You got me," he said, "you got my fingerprints, haven't you?"

Searched for weapons, Max surrendered his .38 calibre revolver.

Lieutenant Augusta said Chipman gave up taxi driving to become an alcohol runner. He fled New York, Augusta said, after a shooting at the Horseshoe bar on West Forty-third street.

Rutstein was kidnaped October 11, 1932, from in front of his home and taken to a small cottage at Nan-tasket beach where he eventually was discovered by searching parties. Three men, Max Schechter and William Harmon, both of New York, and Walter Addison, of Boston, were found with him. They admitted their guilt and are now serving prison sentences of from 17 to 25 years.

A fourth man, Morris Cohen, was arrested in a Boston rooming house on information given by the trio and now is serving a similar sentence.

Health Officer Is Out For Aid to Dillinger

St. Paul Physician Dressed Wounded Dillinger and Hamilton in March—Claims He Did Work Under Machine Gun Aim.

St. Paul, April 25 (AP)—With the suspension of St. Paul's city health officer today it became known that both John Dillinger and his first lieutenant, John Hamilton, were shot and wounded while raiding the First National Bank of Mason City, Iowa, last March 13.

The officer, Dr. N. G. Mortensen, was suspended by John McDonald, commissioner of public safety, after federal agents disclosed Dr. Mortensen had been forced to dress wounds Dillinger and Hamilton suffered in the Mason City robbery.

Both Dillinger and Hamilton have been sought for various crimes but this was the first time they had been definitely connected with the Mason City holdup which netted seven machine gun bandits $52,344 and resulted in the wounding of a bystander when the raiders sprayed the town's main street with bullets in their getaway.

It was learned today that Dillinger and Hamilton suffered shoulder wounds during the Mason City raid.

Dr. Mortensen told authorities that a day after the robbery early on March 15, three men came to his home. He said one carried a machine gun and told him that they wanted him to dress wounds two of the men had suffered.

Dr. Mortensen said that Dillinger and Hamilton had been treated for shoulder wounds. He said he changed the bandages and told the visitors to meet him at his office the next day. They did not do so. Dr. Mortensen told authorities he had planned to notify them when the outlaw came to his office.

Wirt Charges Deemed Unfounded, Is Report

Washington, April 25 (AP)—The Bolwin committee today adopted a report to the House, stating it had founded the charges of Dr. William A. Wirt that a conspiracy of "black" doctors were operating in a "black" hospital.

The vote was 7 to 2, the majority of Democrats supporting the report. The report was adopted by a vote of 7 to 2, the majority of Democrats supporting the report. The report was adopted by a vote of 7 to 2, the majority of Democrats supporting the report.

The two Republican committee members, Representative McGuire of Kansas and Lebach of New Jersey, reserved the right to file a minority report contending the committee had not made a thorough investigation of Dr. Wirt's allegations.

Both reports are to be submitted to the House next Wednesday. Dr. Wirt was arrested in New York last September after the majority report was made public before then.

It was understood, however, the majority opinion reviewed Wirt's assertions and told how they were based largely on conversation of a friend of Wirt's in Virginia last September. Then the majority report was made public the other day, and Dr. Wirt denied allegations attributed to him by Wirt.

Braves Doing Well In National Despite Absence Of Maranville

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Despite the absence of Maranville, the Braves are doing well in the National League. They have won four of their last five games, and are now in first place in the standings.

The Braves have won four of their last five games, and are now in first place in the standings. They have won four of their last five games, and are now in first place in the standings.

Lee made it almost a personal triumph. He smacked Van Mungo for a home run with two bases aboard in the top of the eighth. The Braves pounded in two more runs with a two-bagger in the seventh.

The Chicago Cubs continued their perfect start of season by downing the Cincinnati Reds 6 to 1 for their seventh consecutive triumph. Except for Pat Malone, who hurled six hit ball, the Cubs didn't do a lot to help themselves but the Reds made sure of losing by committing five errors.

Yanks Victorious
The New York Yankees, still in the unfamiliar role of a "hitless" club, continued to furnish the American League headlines by trimming the Athletics 5 to 2 and going to the top of the standing.

Detroit and Cleveland wound up in a second place tie as the Indians defeated the St. Louis Browns 5-1 and Chicago's White Sox handed the Tigers a 2-2 setback. Cold weather forced postponement of the Boston-Washington clash in the American League and the St. Louis-Pittsburgh and New York-Philadelphia games in the National.

Hercules Nine Wants Games For Schedule

Practice Contests Looked For By Powdermen Before Opening Of Downtown Twilight League.

The Hercules Powder Company of Fort Even has a baseball team, which desires bookings for the season. Managers interested should communicate with George Walker of Fort Even, who has charge of scheduling the Hercules. His phone is 254.

Speaking of the Powdermen, Walker said, "As you recall, the Hercules baseball team won the championship of the city Industrial League a few seasons back, and believe that our team this year is much stronger."

All of the men listed on the roster of the team are employed at the Hercules plant. They are Van Etten, Houghtaling, Niles, Peterson and Ernie Best for the infield; Ken Best and Murdock for battery work and Hanley, Dulin, Quest and Hertz for the outfield.

This is the same band of players playing for the Hercules in the Downtown Twilight League. They would like to get in several practice games with local teams before the opening of the league schedule, May 1.

A year ago, Kingston's baseball team was one of the leading contenders for the DUSO crown and was defeated by only Middletown and Port Jervis, last year's winner. This year both Kingston and Middletown lost five of its varsity men from last year's team by graduation or eligibility rules. Last week while Kingston was beating Ellenville, 9-0, for the largest baseball score to be made in the town's history, and Newburgh was defeating Port Jervis, last year's champions, 12-0, Middletown was idle.

No practice was held yesterday, due to the condition of the athletic field from the rain. Practice was resumed today.

Amateur Champ Started Young, Learned To Mix Discretion With Golf

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth of a series of articles on the careers and personalities of the winners of the American Walker Cup golf tournament which meets the British at St. Andrews May 11-12.

By BOB CAVANARO

Associated Press Sports Writer
New York (AP)—An early and careful introduction to golf has had a profound effect on the golfing habits of George T. Dunlap, Jr., making him the national amateur champion's game a model of style and thoroughness and discretion.

To have spent 25 winters at Pinehurst, N. C., and not to have swung a mallet would have been the gravest offense one could commit there, where everybody plays golf. From the time he was able to keep his balance on his slender legs he has been playing the game, although not to the point of over-indulgence. At the age of two he was handed a putter and pushed a ball over a green in his back yard.

Five years later he was given a set of clubs and by the time he was 14 he was playing in junior tournaments.

Never Beaten By Stalemate.
At all times George mixes wisdom with his golf, whether during a tournament or between seasons. He is a threat in every tournament largely because he lays off the game until two weeks before a championship. He never permits stalemate to defeat him.

Dunlap, for the second time awarded a berth on the American Walker Cup squad, sailed for England without having played any practice rounds. He's saying that energy until he reaches St. Andrews where he'll don heavy wool underwear to protect himself against the fierce and biting sales, and prepare himself for the team competition and later the British amateur.

When George returns from England in June he plans to take his family to a secluded spot in the Maine woods to rest, fish and swim and forget all about fairways, traps and rough until two weeks before he is scheduled to defend the amateur title.

Jimmy Johnston Spends $20 To Talk To Max Baer In Iowa

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, April 26 (AP)—The whereabouts and plans of Maxmillian Adelbert Baer, who is about as easy to catch up with as John Dillinger, are no longer a mystery to Madison Square Garden.

It cost something over $20 in long distance calls to track down the leather lugging Lothario in Des Moines, Ia., and relieve the blood pressure that was starting Jimmy Johnston's safety valve to popping. Baer was due here two days ago. The Garden's boxing manager hadn't heard from him since he signed to fight Primo Carnera for the heavyweight championship here June 14.

Johnston discovered from the conversation that Baer will arrive here Monday, that he is in fine condition and will choose a training camp from sites that have been offered him at Atlantic City and Asbury Park, N. J.

Speculator and Saratoga, N. Y.

Five Rounds—That's All
"You'd better get in good shape," Johnston shouted over the telephone. "That Carnera's up in the Maine woods working hard."

"He might just as well save his strength," Baer yelled back. "I'm going to smack him flatter'n a table cloth in about five rounds."

After suggesting diplomatically that the husky Baer kept on his transcontinental exhibition tour, the less likely he was to get into mischief, Johnston hung up.

"Now," he signed, "all I've got to find out is if that Carnera really is working up in Maine, and if he's there at all. He was due back here."

One-Arm Pitcher Shuts Out 3 Teams, Leads In Batting

College Park, Md., April 24

—He has only one arm, but Ed Rubin, ace pitcher for the University of Maryland, asks no odds. Rubin is able to give a few.

He has trounced three teams in his shut-out record, pitching 25 scoreless innings, 100 hits, 10 runs, and is leading the team in batting with an average of .347.

Rubin is a senior and is from Poolesville, Md.

He was born with his disability. His left arm withered in the womb, about his ability were soon coming at empty air when he pitched against them, and when it came to batting he had them chasing all over the lot.

He followed up his record at the University of Maryland and was named star of Coach Burton Zipp, and a thorn in the side of opposing teams.

He wields his glove on his right arm. When a ball comes along, he stops it with this lame arm, then snatches it up with his good right. At the bat he used his left to catch his bat on and when the ball came across the plate he cracks it with his right.

The Virginia teams he has pitched against can best testify to his effectiveness as a pitcher. The University of Virginia went down before him, 3 to 0, in a recent inning, and 8 to 0.

Out of the 25 scoreless innings he has pitched, there have been only 10 hits.

Mohicans May Meet Immanuels for Title

Indications are that there will be a series between the Immanuels, champions of the City Bowling League, and the Mohicans, winners of the trophy in the Silver Palace, for the championship of the city.

Bill Thiel of the Immanuels, speaking unofficially, was in favor of the match and hopes to get the consent of Captain Fassbender and his men to compete with the Mohicans. Homer Emerick, speaking for the Mohicans, said the Indians are anxious and awaiting official word to start rolling.

It is likely that something definite will be announced shortly concerning the match which probably will be decided on the total number of pins.

Refutation Tours
"People are very likely to believe what they see in print."

"Yep," replied Farmer Cornmeal. "That's why these candidates have to keep traveling around the country so much. They have to prove that they don't look like some of the pictures of 'em that get into the papers."

The vote was 703 to 222 of the citizens and the petition was based on the grounds that no federal buildings had been erected in the Virginia city, nor were there to be, and that the citizens were deprived of political and other rights, with no benefits. The act reorganizing the territory was signed by the President July 10, 1910.
